The Holocaust
Jews in Nazi Germany
From Boycott to Destruction

- In 1934 Jews were banned by law from public places such as swimming pools and parks.
- Laws were also passed making it possible to sack teachers, civil servants, and lawyers who happened to be Jewish.

- April 1933 Hitler ordered the SA and SS to organize a boycott of Jewish shops and businesses.

- Very important because Hitler defined who was Jewish and thus defined his enemy.
- German citizenship removed from all Jews.
- Inter-marriage banned
- 1936 – further laws banning Jews from holding property and from working.

- November 1938 first very public violent attack on Jewish homes, business, and synagogues.
- Violence went on for over a week
- Around 100 Jews killed and 20,000 put in concentration camps
- Jews themselves fined for damages caused (one billion marks)

- The outbreak of war intensified the attacks on the Jews.
- After the outbreak of war all Jews in occupied territories were forced to live in ghettos.
- In the summer of 1941, Himmler ordered the SS “Special Action Groups” to kill all Soviet Jews

- Wannsee Conference, January 1942, planning done for complete destruction of Jews in Europe
- 12 “men” (leading Nazis), headed by Adolph Eichmann, planned the operation in intricate detail.
- Exterminations camps are setup in Eastern Europe.
- 6 Million Jews are murdered.

If I am ever in power the destruction of the Jews will be my first and most important job. As soon as I have the power I shall have gallows after gallows erected. Then Jews will be hanged one after another and will stay hanging until they stink.

Document 4 - Discrimination Against Jews

Recorded by the Bavarian political police in the summer of 1935:

"...there were anti-Jewish demonstrations in the swimming pool in Heigenbrüken. Approximately 15-20 young bathers had demanded the removal of the Jews from the swimming bath by chanting in the park which adjoins the bath...A considerable number of other bathers joined in the chanting so that probably the majority of visitors were demanding the removal of the Jews...The district leader of the NSDAP [Nazi Party] who happened to be in the swimming baths, went to the [pool] supervisor and demanded that he remove the Jews....In view of this incident, the Spa Association today placed a notice at the entrance to the baths with the inscription: Entry Forbidden to Jews."

Document 9 - Kristallnacht Order
Regards: Measures against Jews tonight.

a) Only such measures may be taken which do not jeopardize German life or property (for instance, burning of synagogues only if there is no danger of fires for the neighborhoods).
b) Business establishments and homes of Jews may be destroyed but not looted. The police have been instructed to supervise the execution of these directives and to arrest looters.
c) In Business streets special care is to be taken that non-Jewish establishments will be safeguarded at all cost against damage.

As soon as the events of this night permit the use of the designated officers, as many Jews, particularly wealthy ones, as the local jails will hold, are to be arrested in all districts. Initially only healthy male Jews, not too old, are to be arrested. After the arrests have been carried out the appropriate concentration camp is to be contacted immediately with a view to a quick transfer of the Jews to the camps.

Document 10 - Life in the Warsaw Ghetto
Smuggling began at the very moment that the Jewish area of residence was established; its inhabitants were forced to live on 180 grams of bread a day, 220 grams of sugar a month, 1 kg. of jam and 1 kg. of honey, etc. It was calculated that the officially supplied rations did not cover even 10 percent of the normal requirements. If one had wanted really to restrict oneself to the official rations then the entire population of the ghetto would have had to die of hunger in a very short time.... The German authorities did everything to seal off the ghetto hermetically and not to allow in a single gram of food. A wall was put up around the ghetto on all sides that did not leave a single millimeter of open space.... They fixed barbed wire and broken glass to the top of the wall.

Document 11 - Belzec Concentration Camp
After leaving the undressing barracks, I had to show the Jews the way to the gas chambers. I believe that when I showed the Jews the way they were convinced that they were really going to the baths. After the Jews entered the gas chambers, the doors were closed by Hackenholt himself or by the Ukrainians subordinated to him. Then Hackenholt switched on the engine which supplied the gas...

I could see that the lips and tips of the noses were a bluish color. Some of them had their closed, other’s eyes rolled. The bodies were dragged out of the gas chambers and inspected by a dentist, who removed finger rings and gold teeth...

2) What was done to the bodies once they were dead?

Document 12 - Treblinka Concentration Camp
When I came to Treblinka the camp commandant was a doctor named Dr. Eberl. He was very ambitious. It was said that he ordered more transports than could be "processed" in the camp. That meant that trains had to wait outside the camp because the occupants of the previous transport had not yet all been killed. At the time it was very hot and as a result of the long wait inside the transport trains in the intense heat many people died. At the time whole mountains of bodies lay on the platform....

Finally, new and larger gas chambers were built. I think that there were now five or six larger gas chambers. I cannot say exactly how many people these large gas chambers held. If the small gas chambers could hold 80-100 people, the large ones could probably hold twice that number... When the Jews had got off, Stadie or Maetzig would have a short word with them. They were told something to the effect that they were a resettlement transport, that they would be given a bath and that they would receive new clothes. They were also instructed to maintain quiet and disciplined. They would continue their journey the following day.

Then the transports were taken off to the so-called "transfer" area. The women had to undress in huts and the men out in the open. The women were than led through a passageway, known as the "tube", to the gas chambers. On the way they had to pass a hut where they had to hand in their jewelry and valuables.

1) What happened to many Jews as they waited in the railcars?

2) What were the Jews told by the leaders of the camp when they did get off the railcars?
The "Final Solution" was the plan that the Nazis had to kill all of the Jews in Europe. Under this plan, they were able to kill nearly 6 million Jews. They did this either in mass slaughter sites in towns or by forcing Jews to relocate to one of the 8 extermination camps.

An SS has the woman (whose hair is covered in the tradition of an Orthodox Jewish wife) with her infant child to join those being sent to the crematoria (picture below). We also can see a man that is standing between the columns missing his pants and one shoe. This was a common occurrence in the overcrowded boxcars. On the left stand inmates in striped camp clothing. The main gate to the death Camp under which the train pass is at the rear left of this historic photograph.

5. What is a similar situation that is happening right now in the world?
The Holocaust

The Holocaust was the mass murder of six million Jews and millions of other people leading up to and during the Second World War.

The killings took place in Europe between 1933 and 1945. They were organized by the German Nazi party which was led by Adolf Hitler.

The largest group of victims were Jewish people. Nearly 7 out of every 10 Jews living in Europe were murdered.

Most of the victims were killed because they belonged to certain racial or religious groups which the Nazis wanted to wipe out. This kind of killing is called genocide.

The Nazis also killed large groups of people who they thought were inferior. We will never know exactly how many died but there were many millions of non-Jewish victims, including:

- Civilians and soldiers from the Soviet Union
- Catholics from Poland
- Serbians
- Romany Gypsies
- Disabled people
- Homosexuals
- Jehovah's Witnesses
